DQ Technologies and WoodWare Systems Sign Strategic Agreement to Offer Order Delivery Tracking and GPS Solutions

June 5, 2007 – DQ Technologies and WoodWare Systems would like to announce a joint partnership that will bring DQ Technologies Order Delivery Tracking (ODT) software suite to WoodWare Systems, extending the industry leading ERP products functionality and foothold in the building materials market. Integrated within WoodWare Systems ERP software, ODT will help organizations maximize on-time, accurate, and reliable deliveries; while improving the efficiency and profitability for dispatch operations. The WoodWare/ODT solution will provide dispatch, operations, and sales and management organizations with detailed daily delivery and scheduling information, along with dependable and easy to use routing and reporting tools. What's more, the system's integrated GPS capability lets dispatchers coordinate order combination, routing, and fleet tracking to get the most out of delivery operations.

About DQ Technologies

DQ Technologies focuses on building strong relationships with clients—they want to be viewed as an extension of their client's team and not just another vendor. They strive to learn as much as possible about each customer, their business, and what's most important to them. When customers call DQ Technologies, they hear the same familiar voices each time and know who they're talking with. DQ Technologies currently serves more than 500 clients across North America. About WoodWare Systems

WoodWare Systems started in 1983 when a millwork distributor based in Memphis, Tennessee began looking for a way to better serve its customers. WoodWare started with a millwork focus as part of this company, and has maintained an exclusive emphasis on companies that pre-hang doors, mull windows, and sell other millwork products. As a growing number of window distributors and dealers now sell special-order windows, WoodWare has developed catalog interfaces too many major window manufacturers' catalogs (please check with the WoodWare sales team for more details and the specific window lines). Our software solutions are the only ones designed specifically for the millwork industry. For more information, contact Mike Owens at (901) 763-3999 or online at www.woodwaresystems.com
